

Justin Dart, Jr. fought tirelessly across the nation to gain support for the ADA.

JUSTIN DART, JR. was considered the Father of the ADA (Americans with Disabilities), the Civil Rights Act for people with disabilities of all ages. In his final manifesto, he told us:

“Get involved in politics as if your life depended on it - because it does!”

VOTE as if your lives depended on it – because they do!

Lead On!

Justin Dart marching in Washington, D.C. alongside disability rights activists from across the country.

Never underestimate the power of the disability vote!